

Sequence Diagram (Google Account Creator)

This diagram shows the sequence of the entire program. The diagram has 3 actors. User, computer and test. The user inputs data throughout the program. The computer accepts the input. And the test validates the data. Each time the user enters an input it passes through from the computers and then to the test. This sequence follows all the way up until the Congrats message at the end.

